Newsy Notes From Neighboring Towns

GATHERED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

BLOOMINGTON

(From the Advocate.)

We failed to mention the arrival last week of a girl baby at the home of P. F. Peterson.

Miss Daisy Montgomery recently went to Lincoln to attend the Keister school, where she is taking a course in dressmaking.

Mr. Crse of Hastings, a deputy from the grand lodge of the Fraternal Life association, has been in town this week in the interest of the order.

The reception given by the ladies of the "P. E. O." society last week in the Masonic hall, was one of the most pleasant social events that has taken place here for some time. The hall was brilliantly lighted by the new lamps which added luster to the decorations, yellow and white. A large table was covered with a white spread with yellow stars and the letters "P. E. O." in the center, and covered with cut flowers sent by absent members. Dainty refreshments were served and about 150 people in attendance.

D. Rippen is carrying his arm in a sling by reason of an accident received while riding home one day last week. He was seated on a box in the rear of his spring wagon when unnoticed his boy, who was driving, struck the horses with the whip, which threw Dick out. He caught and managed to alight right end up with care but the momentum threw him into the ditch in such a manner as to badly sprain his arm.

Campbell is beginning to put on a metropolitan air and with it comes metropolitan transactions. Last week a smooth guy giving his name as Geo. Duncan and who labored as a carpenter for Contractor Davis tired of work and thought he would move, but before going wished to replenish his coffers somewhat, so on Saturday evening forged a few checks on his employer and passed one of $10 on O. Gagnon and another of like amount on G. A. Firkins. This being the extent of the blank checks in his possession and the game working so smoothly he passed an order on H. Holtzman for a $4 pair of boots, supposedly to protect his feet in his flight. He is supposed to have taken the Sunday freight east for pastures new and green. At last reports nothing had been done by the victims to secure his capture.
